

Laly Llama

The Empathy Detective

Instructions: A detective doesn't just look; they observe. Imagine you are an "Empathy Detective" on a crowded bus with Laly Llama. Your mission is to find someone who needs a "Helping Hand" and write about your discovery.

1. Detective Report: The Observation

Look at the crowd. Choose a person who needs a seat and describe why:

"I observe _____ (Example: a man with a cast on his leg). I think he feels _____ because _____."

2. The Heroic Action

*What did you do to help? Use strong verbs like Stand up, Notice, Offer, and Care.

3. Creative Writing: The Kindness Ripple

When you give up your seat, other people watch you. Finish the story about how your kindness spread to others.

Word Bank: Inspiration - Leader - Respect - Brave - Community

"Standing up wasn't easy because the bus was shaking, but I wanted to be a _____. When I offered my seat, the person looked so relieved.

Then, something magic happened! A teenager nearby saw me and decided to help a lady with heavy bags. I realized that being a _____ means showing _____ for everyone. My small choice helped our whole _____ feel happier. Empathy is a superpower that we can all share!"
